Ash Wednesday

Ash Wednesday gets its name from the ashes that mark the foreheads of Catholics on this day. Ash Wednesday is the first day of Lent, a season when people repent, or express sorrow, for their sins, and ashes are a sign of repentance.

In the Bible, there are many examples of ashes being used to show repentance for sin. A well known example is found in the Book of Jonah. When the prophet Jonah told the people of Nineveh to abandon their wickedness and follow God’s teaching, even the king took his message seriously. “When the news reached the king of Nineveh, he rose from his throne, removed his robe and sat in ashes” (Jonah 3:6).

Another example is seen in Jesus’ warning to the cities that did not repent when the good news was preached. “Woe to Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the deeds of power done in you have been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes” (Luke 10:13).

The ashes that are used in church on Ash Wednesday are created by burning palms from the previous Palm Sunday. Many parishes invite parishioners to bring these palms to church for a ritual burning.

There are two messages you might hear when the priest makes the sign of the cross on your forehead with ashes. One is: “Remember that you are dust and to dust you will return.” The other is: “Turn away from sin and be faithful to the gospel.” Both messages point to the need for repentance and conversion. You hear the messages and receive the ashes at the beginning of your Lenten journey to Easter.

Lent will last for six weeks, until the first day of the Triduum, which begins at sunset on Holy Thursday. Because of its importance in the Christian calendar, one would think that the word Lent would have some deep spiritual significance. Its meaning, however, is “spring.” But maybe that meaning is significant after all. Just as spring is bringing new life to the world around us, Lent offers us a chance at a newer, fresher, better life.
